REPORT DETAILS

1.00	EXPLAINING A NATIONAL CORPORATE PARENTING CHARTER: A PROMISE FOR WALES
1.01	On 22 September 2023 Welsh Government formally launched a Corporate Parenting Charter: 'A Promise for Wales'. The Charter forms part of an ambitious vision for transforming children's services in Wales.
1.02	As part of this vision Welsh Government want to ensure that care experienced children and young people have the same life chances as every other child or young person in Wales. Their rights must be equally respected, and their voice heard, listened to and reflected in action. This was a key message to emerge from a national Care Leavers Summit, which involved carer leavers from Flintshire.
1.03	In collaboration with the Young Ambassadors who attended the Summit, representing care experienced children and young people, Welsh Government developed a shared vision for the future which strengthens public bodies in their role as 'corporate parent'.
1.04	The term "corporate parenting" can be defined as promoting the collective responsibility of the whole public sector to safeguard and promote the rights and life chances of care-experienced children and young people. This is a responsibility of everyone working in the public sector.
1.05	The Charter, sets out 11 principles on equality, eradicating stigma, working together, inclusive support, fulfilling ambitions, nurturing, good health, a stable home, education, thriving in the future, after care support. It encourages all public sector bodies to sign up to these principles as well as 9 promises that set out how care experienced children and young people will be treated, listened to, and involved in decisions that affect them.
1.06	These principles and promises align to the key themes of the UNCRC. They also reflect the Wellbeing of Future Generations (Wales) Act 2015 and the Social Services and Well-being (Wales) Act 2014, Part 6 Code of Practice (Looked After and Accommodated Children).
1.07	Why a Charter – What is it for?
1.08	The Charter is a set of principles and promises developed in collaboration with care-experienced young people. It provides a set of promises that can be adopted by any public sector body when engaging with care-experienced children and young people. It also sets out shared principles that all bodies and their leaders should follow when providing services to care-experienced children and young people.
1.09	The Charter has been designed for all public sector bodies and senior leaders to sign up to as a good Corporate Parent. Flintshire local authority has the opportunity to be an organisational leader in committing to the Charter. It is important to note that the Charter is not exclusive to local

	authorities and public bodies, and members of the third sector and private sector are encouraged to sign up and become a Corporate Parent. There is a real opportunity to consider how we adopt and promote the Charter locally with partners to ensure the best outcomes for our care experienced children and young people.

GLOSSARY OF TERMS

United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC) - The UNCRC consists of 54 articles that set out children's rights and how governments should work together to make them available to all children. Under the terms of the convention, governments are required to meet children's basic needs and help them reach their full potential. Central to this is the acknowledgment that every child has basic fundamental rights.
